KEYMACRO is a free software that performs macros from a keyboard. Key Macro is a utility that provides you with a simple, reliable and intuitive way to save your time. You can define a macro for any key, and you can define the key combination that must be executed by it. You can assign a hotkey to activate the macro. The macro can be executed manually or be triggered by a hotkey. The default key combination to activate the macros is Ctrl+Alt+M. You can combine the macros from your first key combination to another. For example, if you want to launch a macro when you press Ctrl+Alt+M, you will combine the two macros, but the "Ctrl+Alt+M" combination is not required. In addition, you can create a menu to execute your macros from a list of macros you have defined. The list of the macros that you have defined is saved in a file, and you can quickly access this list from your macro list. When you have executed a macro from this list, the file is also saved. You can view the macros list, the files list, or the history list. You can also edit the information saved in the files list, history list, or the macros list by using the filter option. You can select the files to be saved in a specific file list, filter them, add or remove files from this list, and so on.
