Features Key:

Prologue : A short story about the Elden Regent, a warrior with goddess-like bearing.
Epilogue : A story ending chapter. It also serves as a teaser for the next story chapter.
Battle System : A traditional RPG battle system built around the skills of actions, basic attacks, criticals, and special skills.
Command System : Action commands that can be issued while playing strategic battles. Global commands are what ties the solo, multiplayer, and offline portions together, and allows you to smoothly connect communication with other players without additional work.
Class System : Make use of three classes, Warrior, Mage, and Archer.
Class Exchange : Invite nearby players that match your play style to your world, and invite them as friends.
Character Card : A card that represents your character; its showing state is enhanced by equipping items. The user can choose the order of class cards.
Guild System : Create your own guild and form bonds with other players in your hometown and online.
Battle Dungeon System : The classic fun dungeons, the Lands Between Dynamic Online Interface : View information on your traveling companions, as well as the battles they participate in.

Story Etiquette:

Please note that the following is a condensed, simplified version of the story. Due to the story timeline, this work is divided into three chapters and ends with an epilogue. The story details may differ according to the choices you make during the game.

We have also arranged the story in the following sequence: prologue, epilogue, and battle/command system chapters.

All characters and locations within the story are entirely fictional. Names, for example, do not represent actual people, places, or things.

Improvement in myocardial oxygen extraction by blood-oxygen carrier exchange during cardiac surgery. Despite advances in cardiopulmonary bypass technology, ischemic complications continue to occur during open heart surgery. Our aim was to evaluate the effect of oxygen carrier exchanges before aortic cross-clamping on circulating, tissue and cardiac levels of myoglobin, ascorbic acid, ATP, and phosphocreatine during normothermic cardiopulmonary bypass. Exchanges of a portion of the circulating blood with oxygen carrier were performed in seven patients. Blood samples were obtained from the systemic and coronary sinus venous lines before the initiation of cardiopulmonary bypass and at 10 min intervals during normothermic extracorporeal circulation. Myoglobin concentration and myoglobin/protein ratio increased significantly after blood exchange (P < .05).
