The classical methods of singular perturbation theory do not work in this case and new methods are required. Although the techniques developed by Liouville, Poincaré and others seem to work only in special cases, in this paper a general method based on the method of iterated quasi-potentials is constructed to deal with this problem. The method is applied to the equation where (x,y,t) be a solution of, where a is a parameter which can be chosen complex. It is shown that, for a fixed, the solutions are asymptotic to the solutions of. This implies that, for a fixed, there exists a sequence of solutions converging to and, for any choice of A , the convergence is uniform.

The 1973 All-Ireland Senior Camogie Championship was won by Cork, who defeated Dublin by 2-13 to 1-13 in the final in C.B.C. MacLysaght Park. Doris Cullen-Anderson scored all the points for Cork, who had lost the final of the All-Ireland Senior Hurling Championship to Kilkenny. The match was described by the Irish Press as the “most exciting” contest. Cork led by three points with three minutes of normal time to play when the five-goal effort by Dublin was in full flow. Cork’s goal came from full-back Muriel Martin, who was the star of the team which gave Kilkenny a surprise victory over Galway
