Roblox was created by two college friends, David Baszucki and Erik Cassel. It launched publicly on June 17, 2006 with a YouTube trailer and was finally released that July. Roblox required a browser to download a game-making program, and users could create games for either HTML5 websites and web browsers or Facebook games. Roblox published its own games to web browsers, and Facebook games were added in 2009. Account Settings / Make your own home / Settings This page allows you to edit basic aspects of your account. Current password If you are creating your account now, it will be created automatically with your current password. However, you can change your password now, if needed. Username The default username is your email address. If you do not want to use your email address as your username, you can instead use your desired username. Password Your password must be at least eight characters, can contain any number of letters, numbers, and spaces, and must be at least one of your choice of alphanumeric characters. Confirm password Enter your password again to make sure it is correct. Design / Keep your home If you want to upload a new theme or layout to your house, you can visit the design page by clicking the "Design" link on the left side of this page. The design page will guide you through the process of uploading your own home design, including choosing the design template, uploading your own images for the page, and defining your navigation. Click "Set Theme" to set your new home theme. Create pages: Use the menu icon in the upper right corner of the design page to access your own pages. Pages are the main sections of your house. You can create different pages for different purposes. You can create a page for your profile, a page for the "my stuff" section, a page for your games, and more. Privacy Settings: The page allows you to customize your privacy settings. You can control what information that the Roblox platform collects about you, such as your username, your email address, and your page views. Comments Use the comments area to make your friends and other players feel welcome to visit your page, or to leave a constructive review. My Stuff My Stuff is a section of your house that appears under your account name at the top of your page. It is where you can manage your stuff
